Self-reflection 7

My exploratory essay explored the topic of media addiction within the realms of media and identity. The purpose of this essay was to develop my writing strategy while utilizing different academic tools including library databases and essay outlines. My audiences were my professor and peers. In considering my audience, I had to use citations for my work and construct my work according to academic writing guidelines. The media and genre in the form of a written essay were chosen based on the course objective. The course objective lists engaging in collaborative and social aspects of writing processes, so my media and genre were chosen to fulfill this learning objective.
